Consequent amendment of art. 5 of the Articles of Association, inherent and consequent resolutions.

Dear Shareholders,

You have been called to the Shareholders' Meeting to discuss and resolve on the proposal to issue a convertible and converting bond loan reserved for Nice & Green S.A., a professional investor based in Nyon, Switzerland ("N&G" or the "Investor") for an equal amount to Euro 90 million to be issued in several tranches pursuant to art. 2420-bis of the cod. civ. and consequent capital increase against payment and in divisible way, in one or more times, with the exclusion of the option right pursuant to art. 2441, c. 5, of the cod. civ., reserved for the Investor, for the conversion of the aforementioned loan.

In particular, on April 5, 2022, Tiscali signed an investment agreement with N&G (the "New Investment Agreement") concerning a Tiscali financing program by issuing a convertible bond loan and converting into ordinary Tiscali shares, consisting of convertible bonds with a nominal amount of Euro 100,000 each (the "Bonds"), for a maximum total amount of Euro 90,000,000.00 (with the possibility of renewal under the same terms and conditions) reserved for the Investor (the "New POC").

The Investment Agreement is in continuity with the existing relationships with N&G. In particular, it should be noted that, on May 14, 2021, the Company signed an investment agreement with the Investor relating to the subscription of a convertible and converting bond loan for a total amount of Euro 21 million, divided into seven tranches, with faculty to renew for a further total of Euro 21 million. In this regard, following the issuance of the seventh and last tranche of the bond loan, the Company proceeded to exercise its right to renew the loan for a further seven tranches, for a total amount of an additional Euro 21 million.

The New Investment Agreement provides for the issuance of the New POC, in a period of 21 months starting from the seventh trading day following the completion and effectiveness of the merger by incorporation of Linkem Retail S.r.l. in Tiscali (the "Merger"), through the subscription of a maximum of 18 tranches, for an amount equal to Euro 5,000,000.

Each party will have the right to request the renewal of the New Investment Agreement, under the same terms and conditions, in the three months preceding the end of the period of issue of the Bonds; acceptance of the request must be received within 5 working days of the request.

Furthermore, on 5 April 2022, in the context of the New Investment Agreement, Linkem S.p.A. ("Linkem"), which, following the Merger, will hold a stake in the Company equal to approximately 62% of the share capital of Tiscali, and the Investor have signed a share loan agreement (the "Linkem Share Loan"), through which Linkem has undertaken to lend to the Investor – free of charge, without any purchase or sale purpose – a sufficient number of Tiscali shares that the Investor can borrow to anticipate the issue of the new Tiscali shares in order to receive a number of shares equal to at least 120% of the amount of each tranche equal to Euro 5,000,000 (the "Loaned Shares").

This Explanatory Report (the "Report") was prepared pursuant to art. 125-ter of Legislative Decree 58/1998, as subsequently amended and supplemented (the "TUF") and art. 72 of the regulation adopted with Consob resolution no. 11971 of May 14, 1999 and subsequent additions and amendments (the "Issuers Regulation") in order to illustrate the proposal to the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting of Tiscali regarding the issue of the New POC, and the consequent increase in the share capital of Tiscali to payment, in one or more times and in divisible way, with the exclusion of the option right pursuant to Article 2441, paragraph 5, of the Civil Code for a total amount, including any surcharge, of a maximum of Euro 90,000,000, to exclusive and irrevocable service of the conversion of the New POC, through the issue of Tiscali ordinary shares, without par value, with regular entitlement and the same characteristics as the Tiscali ordinary shares in circulation at the issue date.

1. ILLUSTRATION OF THE OPERATION AND THE CAPITAL INCREASE IN SERVICE OF THE CONVERSION OF THE POC

The Report aims to illustrate the proposal to issue the New POC for a maximum total amount of Euro 90,000,000 (with the possibility of renewal under the same terms and conditions) reserved for the Investor and consequent increase in share capital, pursuant to art. . 2441, paragraph 5, of the Italian Civil Code, for the exclusive and irrevocable service of the conversion of the Bonds.

The signing of the first tranche of the New POC is subject to the completion and effectiveness of the Merger.

Below are the main terms and conditions of the New Investment Agreement, to which the regulation of the New POC is attached.

1.1 Main characteristics of the POC

The New Investment Agreement provides for an overall issue period of the New POC equal to 21 months starting from the seventh business day following the completion and effectiveness of the Merger, (the "Issue Period"), and consisting of a maximum of 18 tranches of Bonds for an amount equal to Euro 5,000,000.

It is understood that, with the subscription of the first tranche of the New POC, the convertible bond loan whose investment agreement was signed on May 14, 2021, will be considered immediately concluded.

The Bonds will be converted after maturity (24 months from the date of issue of the first tranche of the Bonds). Upon maturity, all outstanding Bonds not yet converted will be irrevocably converted into Tiscali shares.

Each party will have the right to request the renewal of the New Investment Agreement, under the same terms and conditions, in the three months preceding the end of the period of issue of the Bonds; acceptance of the request must be received within 5 working days of the request.

The Bonds will be issued in bearer form and in dematerialized form and will be fully and exclusively deposited with Monte Titoli pursuant to articles 83-bis et seq. of the TUF and the joint resolution of CONSOB and Bank of Italy of 13 August 2018. The Bonds will not be admitted to trading.

The Bonds represent zero coupon convertible bonds. The Bonds constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations and, in the event of liquidation, insolvency or dissolution, they will be considered (i) pari passu with any other present and future unsecured creditor of Tiscali and (ii) subordinated to the indebtedness of the Company pursuant to of the Senior Loan signed, inter alia, between the Company and Intesa Sanpaolo S.p.A. and Banco BPM S.p.A., unless otherwise provided by law.

1.2 Richiesta di sottoscrizione delle Obbligazioni e prezzo di sottoscrizione delle Obbligazioni

The Company will have the right (and not the obligation) to request the subscription of each tranche of the Bonds by submitting to the Investor a specific subscription request for the Bonds.

The Company may deliver the subscription request for the Bonds after 21 working days have elapsed starting from the second working day following that on which the previous tranche was issued.

However, notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investor may, at its sole discretion and in consideration of market conditions, submit to the Company a new subscription request for Bonds prior to the end of the aforementioned term of 21 working days, it being understood that the Company does not will be obliged to issue the Bonds.

The subscription price of each tranche of Bonds is equal to 95.5% of the nominal amount of each Bond, equal to Euro 100,000 (the "Subscription Price").

1.3 Conversion period, conversion request and conversion price of the Bonds

Each tranche of Bonds may be converted into Tiscali ordinary shares, at any time, before maturity (the "Conversion Period").

Each conversion request is binding and irrevocable and must be submitted by the Investor for the amount of Euro 5,000,000. The conversion into Tiscali shares must always cover the entire nominal value of the Bonds for which the conversion is requested. It is understood that the Investor may temporarily receive Tiscali shares pursuant to the Linkem Share Loan.

The conversion price of the Bonds is equal to 95% of the second lowest average daily price weighted by the volumes traded (Volume Weighted Average Price or "VWAP") of the Company's ordinary shares recorded in the 6 trading days preceding the date of request for conversion of the Notes by the Investor (the "Conversion Price").

The Company will have to issue new Tiscali shares for an amount equal to the nominal value of the Bonds divided by the Conversion Price (for clarity, the number of new Tiscali shares to be issued for each Bond is determined by dividing the nominal value of each Bond by the Conversion), unless N&G receives Tiscali shares pursuant to the Linkem Share Loan.

The issue of the new Tiscali shares to service the conversion of the Bonds must be carried out by the Company within 5 trading days from the date of receipt of the related conversion request. The Company will be responsible and will have to indemnify N&G from any loss deriving from the failure to issue the new Tiscali shares for the conversion of the Bonds within the aforementioned term of 5 trading days.

In the event that the Investor does not receive the new Tiscali shares, the Company will be required to pay the Investor an amount equal to the conversion ratio multiplied by the difference (if positive) between (a) the closing price of the Tiscali shares in the 5 trading days following the date of the conversion request and (b) the closing price of the Tiscali shares on the day immediately preceding the date on which the relevant Tiscali shares are received by the Investor, unless the Investor receives Tiscali shares pursuant to the Linkem Share Loan.

Finally, it is recalled that the Bonds will be irrevocably converted into new Tiscali shares upon maturity.

The obligation of the Investor to subscribe the first tranche of the Bonds is subject to the fulfillment by the Company (unless written waiver by the Investor) of certain conditions, including, inter alia:

1.6 Termination due to lack of liquidity

The Investor will have the right to suspend the New Investment Agreement in the event that the amount of each tranche of Bonds represents an amount greater than or equal to 25% of the total daily traded value of the Tiscali shares during the 21 trading days preceding the issue of each tranche of Bonds.

The Investor will have the right to terminate the New Investment Agreement if the liquidity of the Tiscali shares does not improve during the following 3 months.

1.7 Exclusivity

The Company has undertaken, during the Issue Period, not to turn to other lenders who are competitors of the Investor for similar financing programs, with the exception of Linkem shareholders.

1.8 Events of Default

Event of default means the occurrence of one of the following events during the Bond Conversion Period:

- (i) failure by the Company to pay any amount due to the Investor pursuant to the Investment Agreement or the Linkem Share Loan or a breach, not remedied, of the covenants or of the obligations set out in the Investment Agreement ;
- (ii) the non-fulfillment of the provisions pursuant to the legislation on market abuse;

- (iii) the non-fulfillment of the original collateral sharing agreement as described under the amending agreement that will be signed between the Company, the Investor, Banco BPM S.p.A. and Intesa Sanpaolo S.p.A., which is not remedied;
- (iv) The delisting of the Tiscali shares at the request of the Company;

The Investor has the right to terminate the New Investment Agreement by notifying the Company in writing:

- (i) if, after the subscription of the first tranche of the Bonds, the Company does not make subscription requests within 6 months, unless the Company has suspended the subscription; or
- (ii) upon the occurrence of an event of default, a material adverse change, a public purchase offer or exchange resulting in the acquisition of control of the Company or the lack of liquidity, pursuant to the Investment Agreement;
- (iii) in the event that Tiscali concludes a financing transaction in shares.

In the event of early termination of the New Investment Agreement, the Bonds issued will be converted by the Investor within a maximum of 90 business days.

1.10 Suspension at the request of the Company

The Company has the right to temporarily suspend, one or more times, the New POC, without prejudice to the Investor to convert the outstanding Bonds during this suspension period.

The New Investment Agreement will be effective again upon expiry of the suspension period, provided that the Issue Period is not extended.

1.11 Listing of Tiscali's shares

The Tiscali shares to be assigned to the Investor following the conversion of the Bonds will be admitted to listing on the MTA on the basis of a listing prospectus which must be submitted for CONSOB approval or exempt from the publication of such listing prospectus. If the Tiscali shares resulting from the conversion of the Bonds can be admitted to listing only following the publication of a listing prospectus, the Investor may use the Loan Shares pursuant to the Linkem Share Loan to exchange the unlisted Tiscali shares resulting from the conversion with listed Tiscali shares.

2 CRITERIA FOR DETERMINING THE CONVERSION PRICE AND COMMITMENT FEE OF THE OPERATION

Preliminarily, the release of all the shares previously issued by the Company is confirmed pursuant to art. 2438, paragraph 1, of the civil code, and the successful execution of all contributions previously due pursuant to art. 2481, paragraph 2, of the civil code.

The Conversion Price of the Bonds is equal to 95% of the second lowest average daily price weighted by the volumes traded (Volume Weighted Average Price or "VWAP") of the Company's ordinary shares recorded in the 6 trading days preceding the date of request for conversion of the Notes by the Investor.

The number of Tiscali shares to be issued for the conversion of the Bonds will therefore be determined on the basis of the ratio between the value of the Bonds (subject to communication by the Investor on the basis of the individual conversion requests) and the Conversion Price.

The choice not to determine an established price is in line with market practice for similar transactions characterized by a large period of time in which the subscription of the Bonds and the capital increase to service the conversion of the same takes place. The criterion for determining the Conversion Price allows the issue of shares at a price in line with the market value of the Tiscali shares in the observation period (i.e. 6 open market days prior to the date of request for conversion of the Bonds by the 'Investor).

In this regard, it should be noted that, even taking into account the length of the time period within which the conversion may take place, the adoption of a predetermined price could have the consequence, in the event that the stock market prices of the Tiscali shares were significantly higher than this price, to penalize the Company and its shareholders to the benefit of the Investor. The adoption of a criterion based on the performance of the shares allows, however, to issue shares at a price that follows the trend of the value of the share itself, a value also recognized by the market. Furthermore, the selected criterion appears to be in line with the market practice followed for transactions in which the subscription of the capital increase to service the conversion of the bonds is potentially extended over an even large period of time. In general, in such cases, the adoption of a pre-established fixed price could lead, in the event that this price in the future is significantly lower than the stock market value of the securities at the time of the actual conversion of the bonds, to a strong penalisation of the group. and its shareholders.

It should be noted that the application of a 5% discount appears in line with similar transactions. It should also be noted that the adoption of the second lowest market price recorded in the reference time interval of six days involves a discount compared to the average value of the same interval. The analysis of the trends in the share prices of the Tiscali stock in the last six months confirmed that this discount, combined with the previous conversion and subscription discounts for the Bonds, would in any case bring the overall discount to a level that would always fall within the values of the sample of comparable transactions analyzed and which would in any case be in line with the terms and conditions of the convertible and converting bond loan signed by N&G and outstanding at the date of the Report.

It should also be noted that the New Investment Agreement does not provide for any commission fee but a subscription price of the Bonds equal to 95.5% of their nominal value which must be added to the Conversion Price in order to quantify the overall return for the Investor.

In fact, in the hypothesis of exclusion of the option right pursuant to Article 2441, paragraph 5, of the Italian Civil Code, art. 2441, paragraph 6, of the Italian Civil Code states that the issue price of the shares is determined by the Directors "on the basis of the value of the shareholders' equity, taking into account, for shares listed on regulated markets, also the price trend in the last six months".

In light of the foregoing, and considering that the net equity value of the Group headed by Tiscali is negative, the Directors deemed it appropriate – in order to identify a conversion price that corresponded to the market value of the Tiscali shares – to take into account the implicit valuation of the Tiscali shares in the stock market prices as well as the specific characteristics of the Company and in particular the volatility of the share.

For the purpose of identifying the criterion for determining the price of Tiscali shares, the Board of Directors analyzed the valuation methods that are commonly followed for similar transactions, both on the national and international markets, also taking into account the applicable provisions of the code civil. From an analysis of the issues carried out in Italy, it emerges that the conversion price of the bonds into shares of the company, even if it must necessarily take into account the peculiarities of the transaction, cannot disregard the prices of the shares at a given time, for the purposes of identify the correspondence of this conversion price with the market value.

In particular, in order to determine the price (or the value) of the shares, the investors, in accordance with the established practice in similar transactions, refer – in addition to the stock exchange price – to other elements of both a quantitative and qualitative nature among the such as (i) the recent evolution of the share performance, (ii) the liquidity of the share, (iii) the volatility of the share, (iv) the market conditions at the time of the transaction, (v) the expectations of investors in regarding the future results of the company, (vi) the type of operation carried out and the type of subscribers, (vii) the specific characteristics of the operation, such as the size of the offer and the destination of the new financial resources obtained through the operation.

The choice to apply the stock market price method, as well as being referred to by the civil code, is also supported by practice and doctrine. In particular, the "Italian Valuation Principles (PIV)", for example, indicate that "in the presence of an efficient stock market without disturbances, and in the absence of competition to acquire control of a company, the stock market capitalization (share price by number of outstanding securities) of a company should normally be the best approximation of a company's (market and intrinsic) value".

In any case, it should be noted that stock market prices may be subject to even significant fluctuations over time, in relation to both the general economic situation and the national and international financial context, as well as speculative forecasts; therefore, the valuations based on stock exchange prices, even if relative to time frames of different lengths, could have been affected by these fluctuations in the time frame used as a reference for determining the price.

In consideration of the analyzes carried out, the Company's Board of Directors believes that the criteria adopted for determining the Conversion Price of the Bonds are consistent with the criteria established by art. 2441, paragraph 6, of the Italian Civil Code and, therefore, appropriate to identify a price capable of preserving the equity interests of the Company's shareholders, in consideration of the exclusion of the option right pursuant to art. 2441, paragraph 5, of the Italian Civil Code

Finally, it should be noted that the auditing company Deloitte & Touche S.p.A. it is called upon to issue its opinion on the fairness of the issue price of the shares.

4 GUARANTEE AND / OR PLACEMENT CONSORTIA AND ANY OTHER FORMS OF PLACEMENT PROVIDED

Since this is a capital increase reserved for the conversion of the remaining tranches of the New POC, no guarantee and / or placement consortia are envisaged. There are no other forms of placement.

5 SHAREHOLDERS WHO HAVE MANIFESTED THE AVAILABILITY TO SUBSCRIBE THE CONVERTIBLE AND CONVERTING BONDS OF NEW ISSUE

Under the New Investment Agreement, the signing of the New POC is reserved exclusively for the Investor, who has undertaken to sign it.

6 RATIONALE OF THE PROPOSAL AND EXCLUSION OF THE RIGHT OF OPTION

The signing of the New Investment Agreement and the New POC will allow the Company to find, with the flexibility typical of this instrument, resources to be allocated to meet the Company's liquidity needs necessary to implement its industrial plan, within the envisaged time horizon. from the New POC.

The choice to proceed with the issue of the New POC allows to obtain financial resources with timelines consistent with the needs of the Company, which would be difficult to obtain through instruments such as financial indebtedness by the banking class, the raising of resources through the financial market or a capital increase.

Furthermore, the Company was able to verify the usefulness of this instrument also in the recent past by subscribing to the convertible and converting bond loan signed by N&G and outstanding at the date of the Report and, precisely because of the benefits obtained, it believes that the subscription of the New POC can represent an efficient tool to meet Tiscali's needs.

Therefore, the New POC allows the Company to equip itself with a flexible funding instrument, suitable for finding, in a short time and at low cost, resources from the non-bank capital market, necessary to be able to implement the industrial plan, in accordance with what has been agreed. as part of the senior loan signed between the Company and the banking class.

Furthermore, the particular structure of the New POC which provides for the mandatory conversion of the Bonds upon maturity ensures that the Company can strengthen its corporate assets by sterilizing, at the time of conversion, any effect on its net financial position, with a consequent strengthening of the structure. financial company.

In this context, therefore, the advantages for the Company deriving from the placement of the New POC are mainly represented:

- from obtaining financial resources through an operation that has characteristics of flexibility in favor of the Company; And
- the improvement of the equity structure upon maturity of the Bonds by converting them into Tiscali shares.

In this perspective, the exclusion of the option right pursuant to Article 2441, paragraph 5, of the Italian Civil Code is a structural element of the transaction since the newly issued shares resulting from the conversion will be attributed exclusively to the subscriber of the Bonds that he will become a shareholder of the Company by virtue of the offsetting of the credit from the redemption of the bonds with the debt from the subscription of the new shares. In fact, the choice of reserving the subscription of the New POC to the Investor, as a qualified investor, is based on the need for the Company to promptly find financial resources at favorable conditions.

For these reasons, the Board of Directors considered that the transaction responds to the interest of the Company.

Finally, it should be noted that the transaction as described could have a dilutive effect, currently not calculable, on the equity investments held by the current shareholders of the Company, which will depend on the methods of execution of the same, and in particular, on the number of shares issued to service of the conversion of the Bonds and therefore of the share capital of the Company actually subscribed by the Investor as well as the relative subscription price of the Bonds

7 PERIOD FOR THE ISSUE OF THE BOND AND THE EXECUTION OF THE CAPITAL INCREASE FOR THE CONVERSION

The Bonds will mature after 24 months from the date of issue of the first tranche of the Bonds. Upon maturity, all outstanding Bonds not yet converted will be irrevocably converted into Tiscali shares.

8 DATE OF ENJOYMENT OF THE NEWLY ISSUED SHARES

The Tiscali ordinary shares that will be issued will have the same entitlement and the same characteristics as the Tiscali ordinary shares outstanding at the issue date.

9 INFORMATION ON THE PUBLICATION OF A PROSPECTUS FOR ADMISSION TO LISTING

The New Investment Agreement provides for an overall period of issue of the New POC equal to 21 months starting from the seventh business day following the execution of the Merger. Each tranche of Bonds may be converted, at any time, before maturity. The Bonds will mature after 24 months from the date of issue of the first tranche of the Bonds. Upon maturity, all outstanding Bonds not yet converted will be irrevocably converted into Tiscali shares.

Provided that the shares issued to service the conversion of the Bonds, together with any ordinary shares issued in the twelve months prior to the issue of the aforementioned shares, represent less than 20% of the Tiscali ordinary shares already admitted to trading on the Euronext Milan market, the Company may benefit from the exemption from the publication of the prospectus for admission to listing pursuant to art. 1, par. 5, lett. to) of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.
