Assicom Ribes is reborn and becomes INNOLVA

The Credit Information & Management Services of Tecnoinvestimenti Group Approach the Market With A Single, Stronger Corporate Identity

www.innolva.it: New Website Launched with a Dynamic & Modern Design

Rome, Madrid. 3 May 2018 Innolva is the new name of the company wholly owned by Tecnoinvestimenti S.p.A. which offers commercial information, risk monitoring and credit recovery services and is part of the Group's Credit Information & Management business unit.

The change in denomination is part of the process that started with the merger by incorporation of Ribes in Assicom in December 2017, which led to the birth of a protagonist that has over 20 years of experience in the sector and is ranked among the top three operators in Italy. The name change by the company from Assicom Ribes S.p.A. to Innolva S.p.A was approved by an Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting on 28 March 2018 and became legally effective following its registration with the Chamber of Commerce Corporate Registry of Udine.

"This step completes the process of merging the two companies, acquired in 2012 and 2014, and evidences even more concretely the emergence of a national player in the credit information sector, said Pier Andrea Chevallard, Chief Executive Officer of Tecnoinvestimenti Group. The Innolva name, easy to remember, underlines the highly innovative content of the offer and the strategic approach of the company. At the same time the new name opens a prospective towards the future, with the company fully cognizant that only by engendering a capability to evolve constantly will it be able to interpret and serve the market correctly."

Valerio Zappalà, Innolva's General Manager, commented "A new name for a new story that begins with the merger of two realities and a common goal: to support the business challenges of each client with an eye towards the future. Our pay-off, "Close to those who look ahead" expresses the desire to create the best services and be close to our customers."

Innolva has also created a new website, www.innolva.it, with a dynamic and modern design that reflects the commitment of the company and the Tecnoinvestimenti Group to offer a complete, cutting-edge range of quality tools to support clients of the "Credit Information and Management" sector.
