D) In the event of a vote on the proposed liability action pursuant to Article 2393, subsection 2, of the Italian Civil Code from shareholders on the occasion of the approval of the financial statements, the undersigned delegates the Designated Representative to vote according to the following indication:

IN FAVOUR AGAINST ABSTAINED

1. If significant circumstances should occur which are unknown at the time of issuing of the proxy, which cannot be communicated to the delegator, it is possible to choose between: a) confirmation of the voting instruction already expressed; b) modification of the voting instruction already expressed; c) revocation of the voting instruction already expressed. If no choice is made, the voting instructions under A) will be considered confirmed.
2. In the event that changes or additions to the draft resolutions submitted to the meeting should occur, it is possible to choose between: a) confirmation of the voting instruction possibly already expressed; b) modification of the voting instruction already expressed or conferment of the voting instruction; c) revocation of the voting instruction already expressed. If no choice is made, the voting instructions under A) will be considered confirmed.

Italian Legislative Decree no. 58/1998 (Consolidated Law on Finance)

Article 135-decies

(Conflict of interests of the representative and of the substitutes)

1. The conferral of a proxy to a representative in conflict of interest is permitted provided that the representative communicates in writing to the shareholder the circumstances from which this conflict derives and provided that there are specific voting instructions for each resolution in relation to which the representative will have to vote on behalf of the shareholder. The burden of proof shall be the responsibility of the representative for communicating the circumstances giving rise to the conflict of interest to the shareholder. Article 1711, second subsection, of the Italian Civil Code does not apply.
2. For the purposes of this Article, there is in any case a conflict of interest where the representative or the substitute:
 - a) controls, including jointly, the company or is controlled, including jointly, or is subject to joint control with the company;
 - b) is connected to the company or exercises significant influence over it or the latter exercises significant influence over the representative;
 - c) is a member of the administrative or control body of the company or of the persons indicated in letters a) and b);
 - d) is an employee or an auditor of the company or of the persons indicated in letter a);
 - e) is a spouse, relative or similar within the fourth degree of kin with the persons indicated in letters a) to c);
 - f) is linked to the company or to the persons indicated in letters a), b), c) and e) from self-employment or subordinated employment relationships or from other capital or asset relationships that compromise their independence.
3. The replacement of the representative with a substitute who has a conflict of interest is allowed only if the substitute has been indicated by the shareholder. In this case subsection 1 applies. The reporting obligations and the related burden of proof remain with the representative.
4. This Article also applies in the case of transfer of shares by power of attorney.

Article 135-undecies

(Representative designated by the company with listed shares)

1. Unless otherwise provided in the Company By-laws, companies with listed shares designate for each meeting a person upon whom the shareholders may confer, by the end of the second open market day prior to the date set for the meeting, as well as in a call following the firstcall, a proxy with voting instructions on all or some of the proposals on the agenda. The proxy is effective only for the proposals for which voting instructions have been granted;
2. The proxy is conferred by the signing of a proxy form whose content is regulated by Consob in its regulations. The conferment of the proxy does not entail any expenses for the shareholder. The proxy and the voting instructions are always revocable within the period indicated in subsection 1.
3. The shares for which the proxy has been conferred, partially or otherwise, are calculated for the purposes of the regular constitution of the shareholders' meeting. In relation to proposals for which no voting instructions have been conferred, the shares are not counted for the purposes of calculating the majority and the share of capital required for the approval of the resolutions.
4. The person appointed as a representative is obliged to communicate any interest they may have on their own behalf or on behalf of third parties with respect to the draft resolutions on the agenda. They also maintain the confidentiality of the content of the voting instructions received until the beginning of the count, except for the possibility of communicating this information to their employees and auxiliaries, who are subject to the same duty of confidentiality. No proxies may be conferred on the person who is the designated representative, except in compliance with this Article.
5. With the regulation referred to in subsection 2, Consob may establish cases in which the representative who is not subject to any of the conditions indicated in Article 135-decies may cast a vote which is different from that indicated in the instructions.

Italian Civil Code

Article 2393

(Corporate liability action)

The liability action against the directors is promoted following the resolution of the shareholders' meeting, even if the company is in liquidation. The resolution concerning the liability of directors may be taken at the time of the discussion of the financial statements, even if it is not indicated in the list of matters to be dealt with, when it concerns matters pertaining to the year to which the financial statements refer. The action may be exercised within five years from the termination of the Director from the office. The resolution of the liability action implies the revocation of the office of the Directors against whom it is proposed, provided that it is taken with the vote in favour of at least one fifth of the share capital. In this case the Shareholders' General Meeting itself provides for their replacement. The company may waive the exercise of the liability action and may transact, provided that the resignation and the transaction are approved by express resolution of the shareholders' meeting, and provided that there is no voting against a minority of shareholders representing at least one fifth of the share capital or, in companies that make use of the risk capital market, at least one twentieth of the share capital, or the measure provided for in the Company By-laws for the exercise of the corporate liability action pursuant to the first and second subsections of Article 2393 bis.
