Final comments and outlook

- Q2 2022 results realized in a more volatile market
- Backlog positive but visibility is limited due to worsening of macroeconomic and geopolitical scenario
- In H2 SIT will continue to :
 - address global production footprint and supply chain issues according to market demand and availability
 - adjust pricing policies transferring partially the increase in materials and energy costs
 - participate to domestic and international tenders for the roll out of new smart meters
- In this more challenging context we expect consolidated sales growing in a range of 3% and 5% and EBITDA margin between 12% and 13%
