PRESS RELEASE

Credit Suisse AG, London Branch (the Issuer)

Yield Securities due April 2026

(referred to for commercial purposes as “Obbligazione Tasso Misto in Dollari USA Aprile 2026”)

Series SPLB2016-0J31 with ISIN: XS1354962273

(the Securities)

The Issuer wishes to notify holder(s) of the Securities of changes to the basis on which the interest rate for the Securities is determined.

The Issuer refers to the Notice and Consent Solicitation announced and notified to the holders of the Securities on 10 February 2023 (the Notice and Consent Solicitation) and further notice of the result of such Consent Solicitation to the holders of the Securities on 10 March 2023.

The Issuer had requested consent from eligible holders of its outstanding Securities for a written resolution to give effect to a modification of the conditions of the Securities so that the floating rate of interest applicable to each interest period commencing after 30 June 2023 would be determined by reference to SOFR instead of USD LIBOR. The written resolution was not passed as the proposed amendments were not approved.

As set out in the Notice and Consent Solicitation, immediately after 30 June 2023, USD LIBOR, which is used to determine the current Rate of Interest for the Securities, will no longer be representative of the underlying market and economic reality it is intended to measure and its representativeness will not be restored.

On 03 April 2021 however, the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority (the FCA) announced that it will compel ICE Benchmark Administration Limited (IBA) under Article 21(3) of the UK BMR to continue publication of 3-month USD LIBOR with the intention that such publication will cease on 30 September 2024. The FCA noted that IBA would not be able to continue the publication of 3-month USD LIBOR on the basis of its panel bank contributions-based methodology. Instead, the FCA will require IBA to continue to publish 3-month USD LIBOR under a changed, “synthetic” methodology (Synthetic USD LIBOR). Synthetic USD LIBOR will be the sum of (i) 3-month CME Term SOFR Reference Rate and (ii) the ISDA Spread Adjustment for 3-month USD LIBOR.

Due to the above, the Issuer hereby notifies the holders of the Securities that the Rate of Interest for the Securities will continue to be determined by reference to “USD-LIBOR-BBA” but that the relevant LIBOR rate will be “Synthetic USD LIBOR”. No changes to the Original Final Terms will be required and interest will continue to be determined pursuant to the Conditions of the Securities. In particular, the Interest Payment Dates and Reset Date will remain the same as set out in the Original Final Terms and interest will continue to be determined on each Reset Date i.e. the day that is two London Banking Days preceding the first day of the relevant Interest Period.

Synthetic USD LIBOR will be used to determine the Rate of Interest from and including the first day of the Interest Period commencing on 29 April 2024 (the Replacement Effective Date). For the avoidance of doubt, Synthetic USD LIBOR will not apply to payments of interest in respect of Interest Periods commencing before the Replacement Effective Date.

Holders of the Securities should be aware that it is unclear how long the Issuer will be permitted to use Synthetic USD LIBOR in relation to the Securities.

Capitalised terms used in this Notice and not defined herein shall have the meanings given to them in the Original Final Terms (as defined below). In addition, the following definitions shall apply.

CME Term SOFR Reference Rate means the forward-looking term SOFR reference rate provided by Chicago Mercantile Exchange Inc.

ISDA Spread Adjustment for 3-month USD LIBOR means the fixed spread adjustment that applies as part of the ISDA IBOR fallback for 3-month USD LIBOR (which may be a positive or negative value or zero), and that is published for the purpose of Supplement 70 to the 2006 ISDA Definitions.

Original Final Terms means The Final Terms dated 26 April 2016 in relation to the Securities.
