The Board of Directors of Banca Mediolanum S.p.A. met today and approved the Consolidated Interim Report as at September 30, 2024, along with the financial statements of Banca Mediolanum S.p.A. as at the same date. Based on these results, the Board resolved to distribute an interim dividend of €0.37 per share, gross of any applicable withholding tax. The dividend will be payable November 20, 2024 (ex-dividend date November 18, 2024, coupon No. 17; record date November 19). The dividend is classified as ordinary under art. IA 2.1.2 of the Stock Exchange Regulations.

Massimo Doris, CEO of Banca Mediolanum, comments: "First of all, I would like to highlight that the year is progressing extremely well, with net income up by 18% and new records reached in both assets under administration and our credit book. I also want to emphasise the steady growth in customer acquisition and the excellent performance in net inflows, two key drivers that lay the foundation for our continued future growth. We are consistently advancing the distinctive, long-standing strategy that has always set us apart: attracting new customers and new assets also through promotional initiatives and then providing comprehensive advisory services tailored to their needs, ultimately gaining their trust and loyalty over time.

All of this translates into an increasing market share and ongoing value creation for our shareholders, as demonstrated by the interim dividend that the Board of Directors approved today".
